

URGENT NOTICE!

If you haven't heard, there are interruptions to ocean traffic at both the Suez and Panama Canals. Panama Canal vessel moves are greatly curtailed in both directions by a lack of water to serve the locks. Suez Canal traffic is being threatened by rockets and militant hijackers in the Bab al-Mandab Strait, entering/departing the Red Sea.

As a result, vessel owners are re-routing their ships bringing delays and increased costs. The effects will be felt globally and in numerous ways, e.g., longer transit times; increased costs; equipment shortages; higher fuel costs, etc.

If you have cargo on the water and are concerned that it may be rerouted and delayed, please log onto our TRACKSCHOTT system to check on the status.